* The stability data generated at 25°C/60%RH (acc) should be taken into account when deciding whether or not transport under refrigeration is necessary. The statement should only be used in exceptional cases.	Podaci o stabilnosti dobijeni pod uslovima 25°C/60%RH trebalo bi da budu uzeti u obzir kada se donosi odluka da li je lek potrebno transportovati u frižideru. Napomena se koristi samo u posebnim slučajevima.
 The statement should be used only when critical.	Napomenu bi trebalo koristiti samo u kritičnim slučajevima.
 The actual name of the container should be used (e.g. bottle, blister, etc.)	Trebalo bi navesti naziv kontejnera (npr. boca, blister, itd.)
* It should be specified if the product is sensitive to light and/or moisture.	Trebalo bi navesti ukoliko je proizvod osetljiv na svetlost i/ili vlagu.
 Depending on the pharmaceutical form and the properties of the product, there may be a risk of deterioration due to physical changes if subjected to low temperatures. Low temperatures may also have an effect on the packaging in certain cases. An additional statement may be necessary to take account of this possibility.	Zavisno od farmaceutskog oblika i karakteristika leka može postojati rizik od razgradnje zbog fizičkih promena usled niskih temperatura. Niske temperature mogu takođe imati uticaj na pakovanje u određenim slučajevima. Dodatna napomena može biti neophodna da bi se uzela u obzir ova mogućnost.
